

A blue and white helicopter is parked on a sandy beach. The helicopter has blue stripes and the word "HAWAII" is visible on its side. It is positioned on a small wooden platform. In the background, there is a clear blue sky with scattered white clouds, a calm turquoise ocean, and a green, hilly coastline. The scene is bright and sunny.

A helicopter is shown in flight over a deep, rugged canyon. A waterfall cascades down the left side of the canyon wall. The canyon floor is filled with water, and the surrounding landscape is covered in dense green vegetation. The helicopter is positioned on the left side of the frame, flying towards the right.

There is the option to land and admire the Falls from the ground and returning an hour later, or to continue without landing on the return flight, which takes in JCR Creek and provides stunning views from the opposite side of the helicopter as you fly back to Winyalkin Island.
